

Cookies Policy

Key Details

Jeszy Design uses cookies to collect information that improves your online experience.

The display of this policy serves as our full disclosure of (1) what types of cookie we use in this website; (2) how we make use of these cookies in collecting information of our visitors; and (3) how our users may manage and control the use of these cookies.

We may update this policy at any given time. Any revision of this policy is effective once published on this page. We recommend users to visit this page regularly to see any policy changes.

What is a Cookie?

A cookie is a small text file placed on your computer's browser directory or program folders. Cookies are created to enable us to keep track of your movement within our website.

By allowing us to use cookies, we are able to enhance your online experience with Jeszy Design. As we apply our cookies, we are able to help you go back to where you left off, remember your website registration, and personalize our website to your liking. When you consent to the application of cookies on our services, we are able to arrange content and advertisement that match your interests online and may be useful to you at any given time.

The following are cookies that may be applied on our website:

Strictly Necessary Cookies – These are first-party session cookies that are essential in browsing the website and use its features. As first-party session cookies, these are applied on your computer directly by the website and expire the moment your session ends.

Performance/Statistics Cookies – These hold the data on your website usage. Performance cookies collect information such as which pages and links you visited. Such data, however, cannot be used to identify any individual. These cookies can be coming from third-party analytics services, but act for the website visited.

Functionality/Preferences Cookies – These cookies are made to remember information such as your log-in details, language preferences, and the like.

Marketing Cookies – These are persistent third-party cookies that keep track of your online activity to deliver quality advertisements and limit which that are not relevant to your activity. Information collected by these cookies is shared with other advertisers. As persistent third-party cookies, these remain on your hard drive until manually removed or until the cookie's expiration date. These are also placed by an advertiser or an analytic system and not by the website visited. As per the ePrivacy Directive, this kind of cookie should not last for more than a year.

How We Use Cookies

We use cookies mainly to make our platform user-friendly and in particular, for the following purposes:

- reviewing and analyzing our website traffic
- improving the website content and functionality
- storing usage data and other online behaviors
- recognizing user preferences and displaying appropriate content
- troubleshooting any problems in performance

How to Control Cookies

You may head on to your browser's cookie setting to check and control how we manage our cookies. Should you wish to remove our website cookies from your device, you can delete them by clearing the browsing history of the browser you are using. However, some of our features may be limited.

Unless you have set your browser to refuse the website's cookies, we are to apply the technology each time you visit.

European Union Cookie Law

Our group is inclined to complying with the European Union Cookie Law or the ePrivacy Directive. The General Data Protection Regulation of the European Union (EU) strictly requires that users consent to the use of cookies before they are applied.

Jeszy Design reviews its compliance with this ruling periodically and seeks to maintain its operation in line with the law.

Securing Your Information

Our agency is committed to securing your data with serious confidentiality. We have put in place preventive measures to safeguard and secure the data you provide us. To protect such information, Jeszy Design implements the latest technology and software useful in preventing unauthorized access, use, and damage to your information.

Linked Sites

In the event that you encounter links to other websites, be informed that safeguarding any data you provide to the other websites is no longer the agency's responsibility.

We encourage users to read the policies of every website and take caution in sharing personal information.

Remarketing

Our third-party vendors, including Google, apply the technology of cookies in serving quality advertisement coherent to user's previous online activity on our website. Any collected information will be used conforming to the privacy policy of Jeszy Design and Google.

You may manage your preferences on the Google Ad Preferences page, or opt-out of interest-based advertising through the cookie settings or browser plug-in.

Complaints

If there is any concern regarding our use of your information, please email us at info@jeszydeign.com.
